

Purdue University Libraries Distinguished Lecture Series

Presents

An Evening with Amy Tan

8 p.m.
Thursday, October 19, 2006
Elliott Hall of Music

Open to the public with complimentary ticket
for admittance

Book signing immediately following the lecture

Sponsored by:
Barnes & Noble Lafayette

Made possible by:

Major funding to the Libraries from the Estate of Anna M. Akeley

Additional funding by:

Women of Purdue
Delta Gamma Foundation Lectureship in Values and Ethics
Office of the Provost

With special thanks to our campus contributors:

Purdue Alumni Association • College of Liberal Arts and
The Department of English

Pick up your FREE ticket at the following locations beginning October 3rd:

Barnes & Noble Lafayette • Hicks Undergraduate Library
Humanities, Social Science and Education Library
Siegesmund Engineering Library • Tippecanoe Arts Federation
Tippecanoe County Public Library • West Lafayette Public Library

Please join us for an “Evening with Amy Tan,” author of The Joy Luck Club, the beloved internationally bestselling novel that explores the relationships between Chinese women and their Chinese-American daughters. The Joy Luck Club became the longest running title on The New York Times hardcover bestseller list the year it was published and was also selected as a finalist for the National Book Award and the National Book Critics Circle Award. The book has been translated into 36 languages, including Chinese, and has been made into a major motion picture. Tan’s latest novel, Saving Fish from Drowning, was released in fall of 2005. She is also author of The Kitchen God’s Wife, The Hundred Secret Senses, The Bonesetter’s Daughter, and two books for children.

PURDUE
UNIVERSITY
LIBRARIES

www.lib.purdue.edu